

A close-up photograph of a blue fabric patch, likely a name tag or a decorative element on a uniform. The patch is rectangular with a decorative, multi-line orange-brown stitched border. In the center of the patch, there is a white, torn-edged paper label with the name "GEN MOREIRA" written in black, hand-drawn capital letters. The background shows a portion of a brown leather-like material with a perforated pattern, possibly part of a uniform's collar or shoulder area.
